Public Notification

Nestlé Infant Formula Products Contaminated with Cereulide Toxin

The Bhutan Food and Drug Authority (BFDA), Ministry of Health, hereby informs the general public of an ongoing food safety concern involving the Nestlé infant formula products contaminated with the cereulide toxin, originating from the arachidonic acid (ARA) oil used during production. Cereulide is a heat-resistant toxin produced by certain strains of the microorganism, Bacillus cereus, that causes foodborne illness.

The International Food Safety Authorities Network (INFOSAN) has issued alerts and information regarding the recall of infant formula products and oil mixes containing ARA oil contaminated with cereulide toxin.

BFDA has been informed that Nestlé India has used the affected ARA oil in the manufacture of infant formula products and among the affected batches, only the products listed below are exported to Bhutan from India, while the remaining batches from the broader list were not supplied to the Bhutanese market. However, the general public is advised to remain vigilant and avoid all batches listed in Annexure 1.

Name of the Product	Finished Product Batch no.	Product Description	Date of Manufacture	Date of Expiry
NAN PRO 1 IF	52500453T2	400g in Tin	07.09.2025	01.09.2026
NAN PRO 2 FU	52540453K1	400g in BIB	08.06.2025	01.06.2026

Therefore, all importers, distributors and retail outlets are hereby instructed to immediately cease the sale and distribution of the listed products. The general public is strongly advised not to purchase or consume these products and to carefully check the batch number, manufacturing and expiry dates. Any person who encounters the implicated infant formula products in the market, including pharmacies, retailers, online platforms or distribution channels, is requested to immediately inform the nearest BFDA office or contact us at toll-free 1555 or via email at inspection-body@bfda.gov.bt.
